AS WE SEE IT

By NORMAN NUCK

It might just be wishful thinking on our part but we'd like to believe that the recommendations of the Hart-Peterson survey of Salinas Junior College will soon come into being.

This report was prepared by F. W. Hart and L. H. Peterson of the Department of Education of the University of California, noted for their surveys of school systems. Dr. J. F. Ching, superintendent of schools in Salinas, presented this survey to all of the teachers of Salinas schools in a meeting held here in the junior college this Monday.

Before going any farther, let us look into these recommendations, specifically:

(1) That an auditorium with a seating capacity of approximately 1200 be added to the plant, together with a music department integrated with stage and stage craft unit of the auditorium.

(2) A new gymnasium for women.

(3) A health unit.

(4) A student body suite that can be used until such time as student union building may be justified.

(5) A teachers' professional workroom and library associated with a men teachers' and a women teachers' room.

(6) A new library, converting the present library into expanded facilities for the commercial department.

(7) Completion of the purchase of all property lying between the college and the park.

Like all good things, there is a certain catch to these recommendations, in this case that oh-so-hard-to-get capital. The amount needed to back up these recommendations comes to two to four million dollars, but of this sum only a fraction would be spent on additions to S.J.C. The appropriation of this money must come from the passage of a school bond on the part of the voters of the Salinas School District.

By studying the list of proposed recommendations, one can easily see what the realization of these additions would mean to the student body of S.J.C. Many of these items such as the audi-

OBSERVE RULES OR ELSE!

"Holiday For Razors"

By GERALD PARKER

Jaycee men are beginning to show the effects of their "Holiday for Razors" as the Annual Whiskerino goes into its third week.

Wherever you go, on the campus or in one of the villages that supply the J.C. with students, you'll see men who look like they have just come down out of the woods.

Most of the men at least slightly resemble one or the other of the Smith Brothers (cough, cough), and yet there are some among us that have about as much beard as Margaret O'Brien. Oh, well, they are probably the lucky ones when you come right down to it. I have yet to see a bow tie that itched as much as three weeks' growth of chin grass.

"The chin you love to comb" comes in several assorted colors; there are black ones, blond ones, and red ones; and some are a rather odd mixture of all three.

We might be surprised some morning when we come to school to find a picket line around the campus made up of the sales managers of such firms as Gillette and Eversharp-Schick.

Well over half of the students have been going for as long as 20 years without shaving, but it isn't really so strange when you consider that at least a third of the students are women.

That brings us to the subject of the Ribbonero, the women's answer to the face foliage contest. Since it is rather impractical for the gentler sex to grow whiskers, they have been displaying an impressive array of glad rags in their collective coiffure. Some of them are very becoming, to say the least.

The ribbons are appearing in a variety of hues (and I don't mean Howard). Yellow and gold seem to be the predominating colors, but there are plenty of reds, blues, and whites around, too.

Dinks are a pretty good idea these days. In addition to being compulsory for the frosh, they will keep your head dry in case it rains, which is a constant possibility this time of year.

With the whiskers, the ribbons, the dinks, and the mudhole all lined up, we are anxiously awaiting Field Day and Whiskerino Dance.

Auto Caravan To Take Rooters To Sacramento For Game Tonight

Jim Amos and Firmin Gryp, recently appointed transportation committee, are already on the old ball and rolling. Rolling toward Sacramento via auto caravan.

The auto caravan was planned to get a larger attendance at tonight's game against the Panthers of Sacramento J.C.

There have been posters up at strategic points all over the building since early Tuesday announcing the auto caravan and requesting all those who are planning to drive to the game to sign up or contact Firmin or Jim and give an estimate of the number of extra passengers they will be able to take, and the approximate cost per head.

It is believed that this means of travel will entail considerably less expense and as a consequence will make possible a larger Salinas rooting section on hand.

Remembering the good time that was had by all at last year's game with San Francisco J.C., and the dance at the Fairmont after the game, the committee will endeavor to have chartered buses for next week's game in San Francisco.

NO NAME CHANGE FOR LA REATA

Lack of interest shown by the students in the suggested names to replace La Reata was the determining factor in the commission's deciding that the yearbook title will be retained for this year. At last Tuesday's meeting, it was unanimously decided that the issue be shelved until next year.

Student conferences have come to the fore, with two claiming the attention of the commission. The National Students' Association will meet at Stanford University this week end with two students from Salinas J.C. being able to be delegates. It was decided that Frank Stone be one of the students to go while the other representative has not yet been chosen. Complimentary tickets to the Cal-U.S.C. game are available for the lucky delegates.

California Student Body Conference will be held in San Francisco November 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, and student body officers from all over the state will get together to thrash out and settle the problems that come up to bother student government. Six of the commission members will represent Salinas.

Income from the juke box was $20 and it was suggested that this go back into the budget of the social activities committee. It was brought up that only four or five of the records had been changed, and that modern records were wanted.

PLEDGE CARDS ON SALE THIS WEEK

La Reata pledge cards went on sale this week and are going fast. Only 500 yearbooks are being ordered this year so to assure getting one, it would pay to order early.

Pledge cards may be purchased from any member of the La Reata staff for either the entire amount of $2.50, or for $1.00 now and $1.50 in May when the yearbooks arrive.

Cafeteria Price Raise Anticipated

Prices may have to be raised in the near future if the S.J.C. cafeteria continues to lose money as it did in September. The loss last month was $372.32, Mr. Karl Bengston, college controller, reports.

The reasons for the loss this year may be attributed to the facts that fewer students are attending school this year than last year, and the cafeteria is now paying higher prices for food. The prices charged students are now lower than before while the salaries of the cafeteria workers are higher.

An example of this is 5-cent coffee and milk whereas last year the price for these same articles was 10 cents.

It has become apparent that something will have to be done if the cafeteria is to continue operating. Although it is not expected to make a profit, the school must break even on the cafeteria expenditures. As the only item that the school is able to alter is the prices of the food, this is what will have to be changed and by all indications they are going up, Mr. Bengston concluded.

NEW PROPS

Miss Faith Fraser, speech and drama instructor, is very proud of the new stage curtain and floodlights recently installed in the Little Theater.

The light grey curtain, ordered last year, is of the type that pivots and travels, and with which the stage can be made into a continual cyclorama. It is easily and rapidly taken up and down, and will do much to expand the flexibility of the small stage.

There are also three new floodlights which can be separately controlled.

Half Time Hilarity

New Soph Officers Outline Events

Newly-elected president of the Sopohomore class, Roger Erickson, presided over his first class meeting last Friday in the Little Theater.

The other new officers, Jim Amos, vice-president; Barbara Timmins, secretary; and Tom DeBord, treasurer; were introduced to the group of sophomores.

Homecoming Day plans, a very important matter being taken up by all organized groups in the school, were discussed with a motion being passed to enter a float in the scheduled Homecoming parade. Ten dollars was appropriated for the purpose of constructing a float. Russell McJunkin was appointed to head the Sophomore class float committee.

Charlie Mornard was selected for the position of sergeant-at-arms to fine disorderly sophomores and began functioning in that position immediately.

In regard to Field Day, which is coming up soon, committees were appointed to handle the various activities. Baseball captains for the men's and women's baseball games are Oscar Burke and Frank Stone. Phil Trine and Margaret Melrose are in charge of volleyball. Lily Perez heads the women's soccer team. Don Minor and Kermit Darrow will handle the touch football, while the tug-of-war team is being captained by Carl Johnson.

Newman Lunch Huge Success

More than 50 members of the Newman Club attended "The Mixer," this Monday, which was the theme of the get-together to facilitate members getting acquainted. Luncheon was served buffet style with food prepared by two genial super-chefs, Wayne Heple and Eugene Newsome. Part of the food was prepared by the food class.

Much credit for the success of the gathering was due to the work of the committee in charge. Headed by chairman Donna Musler, the committee members are: Wayne Heple, Ramona Kilfoyl, Charlotte Strazacich, Pat Morales, and Eugene Newsome.

The home economics room was well bedecked with pretty floral displays. Cakes for the occasion were generously donated by feminine members of the club.

Seating alternately with a boy-girl arrangement, the theme of the gathering was carried out. Following the luncheon, nominations for club officers were made. The nominees will be voted upon at the next meeting.

With a view toward adopting a constitution for the club, the constitution committee have been studying other associations' constitutions. The members of the committee are: Herb Scaroni, Tom Russo, Pete Fasselman, Frances Delucchi, Warren Katsos, and Charles Strunch.

Father Deegan, chaplain of the club, Mrs. John McGinley, club advisor, and Miss Mildred Novotny, assistant advisor, attended.

Freshmen Meet New Officers

Victors of the hotly contested run-off elections for Frosh officers were presented by Mr. Vincent Anselmo, Freshman class advisor, at the Freshman class meeting last Friday.

After a brief talk on the importance of a good Pajamarino rally and dance, Mr. Anselmo turned the meeting over to the newly elected bewhiskered helmsman of the Freshman class.

President Bob Turney outlined some of the rules for the coming Field Day and called for volunteers for the freshman athletic committee. Don Mitts, new vice-president, discussed the possibility of the group entering a float in the Homecoming parade. It was tentatively decided to do so.

Filling the important office of commissioner of the Freshman class, John Light gave a description of his duties and responsibilities, and an after-election "thank you" speech.

Athletic Leader

Frank Stone, Salinas student, is a member of the commission representing men's athletics.

Stone Represents J.C. Athletes

Holding the important commission office of men's athletics is Frank Stone. Frank was born at Salem, New Jersey, on March 29, 1924.

Since 1940, he has lived in Salinas and attended the local high school where he was quite active and earned awards in baseball and basketball.

Frank, a sophomore at Salinas J.C., is a veteran with three years' service in the army.

Majoring in history and working towards a secondary teaching credential, he has made his block playing first base on the S.J.C. baseball team.

The commissioner of men's athletics states that his hobbies are sports, especially baseball.

He stands 6 feet high, has brown eyes and dark brown hair.

"How old are you little girl?" asked the bus driver.

"If you don't mind," the passenger replied, "I'll pay full fare and keep the statistics to myself."

Record Crowd Attends Game

Largest crowd of any game so far this year was recorded at last Friday night's Santa Rosa J.C. football game.

A total of 2,223 adults, 546 students from other schools, and 359 children under high school age paid to see the game. S.J.C. rooters are not included in these figures as they are not paid admissions.

A gross of $1,923.19 was the evening's gate receipts.

Panther Fights Panther At Sacramento Tonight

In an all-out effort to snap their two-game losing streak and jump into the thick of the N.C.J.C.C. title race, the Panthers of Salinas J.C. invade Sacramento tonight to do battle with the Capital City eleven in a conference tilt. The kick-off is slated for 8 o'clock in the spacious Sacramento stadium.

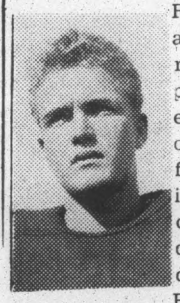

Sacramento possesses a .500 average in league competition with wins over Grant Tech and San Mateo and losses to San Francisco and Napa. A loss for either team will virtually eliminate them from title contention.

Coach Bob Robinett had the good fortune of being able to personally scout the Sacramento squad in their San Mateo game last Saturday and brought back reports of speed and more speed in the attack of the Sacto eleven.

Biggest threat in Coach Earl Hoos' attack is flashy Austin Brown, the speed merchant that caused the locals no end of trouble in last year's tussle between the two teams. Brown raced to three T.D.'s which played an important role in Sacramento's 32-0 win. Almost matching Brown in the speed department are Joe Kline and the Cuffe brothers, Doc and Mickey, all of whom have been consistent ground gainers this season.

Robinett plans to bolster his attack for tonight's game with an added variety of passing plays. These will emphasize speed in getting the ball away.

The regular Salinas eleven will enter the contest bruised and battered but still intact after last week's Santa Rosa game. Guards Al Garnero and Richard Rampone are nursing injuries but are expected to be present for the kick-off. Garnero suffered rib bruises in the opening quarter of last quarter of last Friday's game while Rampone received a deep cut on his lower lip that required six stitches.

Jim Morrison

Jim Morrison, who played an outstanding game against Santa Rosa, will captain the local aggration in tonight's go. Tommy Thompson also showed up well in last week's game and should be able to help alleviate the pressing reserve problem.

The local line once more proved their ability to stop the opposition's ground game in the Santa Rosa tilt and will be out to put a halt to Brown and company. Both Clarence Twitchell and Doyle Burnett threatened to break away for long gainers against Santa Rosa, needing only a block or two to send them on their way.

Starters for Salinas will be Jim Morrison and George Franci at ends, Bob Turney and Chet Garnero at tackles, Richard Ryder at center, Al Garnero and Richard Rampone at guards, Twitchell and Burnett at halfbacks, Charlie Mornard at quarterback, and Russ Bohlke at fullback.

Winter Baseball Commences

Coach Jess Regli started winter baseball practice last week, and since that time the diamond prospects have really been hustling around on the field.

The plan of the day so far has been infield practice, and hitting practice, with some of the boys getting long pokes into the outfield. Regular pepper league practice is whipping the arms in shape for the double plays to be tried for in the near future.

Cliff Cracknell who plays the pivot spot at second base has been fielding the ball very well, and his throw to first base has been very fast, so he should make quite a few double plays.

Chuck Volonte can be seen chasing balls out in the outfield and throwing them in rapid fashion to cut off runners trying to advance.

Frank Stone has been hitting the ball to all corners of the field, and coming up with some good fielding plays at first base.

Bob Pia looks very consistant at hitting the ball up to bat, and on defense he chases the ball in the outfield.

Fielding balls in fine style at short stop is Jerry Shepherd, who hustles in fast to pick up slow rollers and throw accurately to first base.

Pat Alexander is a work horse in the outfield, chasing balls all over the field, and hitting very good on offense.

Chub Kirksey has been banging out a few line drives during hitting practice, and looks very snappy at second base on fast rollers.

LAGORIO PACES SANTA ROSA TO VICTORY OVER SALINAS

George Lagorio proved the undoing of the Salinas Junior College Panthers, as his whip like right arm pitched the Santa Rosa Bear Cubs to a 16-0 triumph over the Panthers before an estimated 4,500 in Salinas Stadium last Friday night in an N.C.J.C. conference clash.

It was the "one man gang" from Santa Rosa, Lagorio, who sent the Panthers to their second straight conference defeat. From the moment Lagorio stepped onto the gridiron in the second quarter, the game took on a different complexion.

In two plays Lagorio passed the Bear Cubs to the Salinas 17 covering 50 yards in the process. Salinas bolstered its defenses and held that drive. Lagorio wasted little time in threatening again. Rushed hard, Lagorio hit his receiver right on the button to place the pigskin on the Salinas 9 yard line.

Santa Rosa changed tactics a bit, and sent Lagorio through the line for 7 yards to the 2 yard line. Two more attempts netted a minus 1 yard and a quarterback sneak by "Tiger" Pisenti was halted a foot short of paydirt.

Clarence Twitchell, in attempting to kick out of trouble, couldn't get the boot away as Wes Snell blocked it and the ball rolled out of the end zone for a safety. Santa Rosa led, 2-0.

Salinas tried desperately to get back into the game but Twitchell's forward pass was intercepted by Dick Young and returned to the Panther 25. Lagorio picked up nothing on two running plays, but on third down spotted "Dusty" Destruel in the clear and nonchalantly tossed for the touchdown.

Art Schefer converted with the sphere sailing out of the stadium to make it 9-0.

Except for a brief passing flury in the waning minutes of the first half, the Panthers were held almost completely in check. A first period 35 yard march went for naught as a fumble in the Salinas backfield was gobbled up by Destruel on the Santa Rosa 14.

Twitchell, the hard running Salinas halfback, brought the local adherents to their feet at the start of the second half. He threaded his way through a wave of enemy tacklers, shaking loose only to be dragged down from behind after galloping 80 yards to the Santa Rosa 20.

Again Salinas' inability to find a touchdown play, once they maneuvered into position, was the downfall of the locals. Four plays netted a grand total of 1 yard and thus the Bear Cubs took over on their 19.

Santa Rosa and Salinas battled on even terms during the second half. The Bear Cubs scored once and barely missed other scoring opportunities because of the alert play of Jim Morrison and Twitchell.

Morrison, not a standout player during the first four Salinas games, rose to meteoric heights in bottling up a number of the Santa Rosa potential long gainers.

Robinett to Coach Track, Boxing; Adams To Instruct Golf

Coaching assignments for the remainder of the college year were announced this week by Coach Ed Adams, director of athletics.

Coach Bob Robinett, now busy with the Panther Varsity, will direct Salinas' renewed efforts to turn out an intercollegiate boxing team. Boxing will start in December. In the spring Robinett will direct the Panther track men.

Coach Adams, now dividing his time between thrice-weekly basketball drills and line coaching with the football team, will have charge of the basketball team in the winter. Next spring he will direct the golf team.

Baseball practice is under the direction of Coach Jess Regli. Coach Regli also will assist Adams with basketball.
